The Melbourne Staff Band of The Salvation Army

For 123 years the Melbourne Staff Band of the Salvation Army has contributed to the ministry of the “Salvo’s”. This world-class band has not lost sight of its mission, great history and tradition as it presses on to bring the message of Christ to the modern world. The Band continues its quest in the firm belief that its work is relevant and God will honour its commitment. Under the baton of Bandmaster Ken Waterworth, you will be delighted by this internationally acclaimed group of musicians.

Colleen Arnott, Soprano

Born into a very musical family, Colleen Arnott has been singing all her life. Colleen's favourite vocal genre is classical. She has been involved with various choral groups including Reflection, the Diamond Valley Singers, Heidelberg Choral Society and is a member of the Melbourne Symphony Orchestra Chorus. Colleen also loves to sing jazz and contemporary gospel and was the vocal director at Crossway Baptist Church. Colleen is accompanied by well-known musician/pianist Denise Ham who is Music Pastor at Crossway Baptist Church

The Couriers

Out of a love for traditional and contemporary gospel music, “The Couriers” male quartet was established several years ago from within Syndal Baptist Church. The group comprises Geoff Beard, Bert Guy, Jono Beard and David Oliver with accompaniment from Ruth and Peter Moresi (piano and guitar). They have brought much joy to people sharing the stunning harmonies and inspirational lyrics of gospel songs - old and new. The group has sung at many churches and Christian events including various “Songs of Praise” presentations and Belgrave Heights conventions. From toe tapping up-beat rhythm to sensitive heart-stirring lyrics, you’ll enjoy this outstanding presentation.

Pastor Robert Coleman is our compere for the evening. He is a man who has served God with a great ministry of the Word. His love of music is well known.
